

Balloon Volleyball

Objective:

The goal of balloon volleyball is to promote physical activity, enhance mobility, balance, and coordination. The activity can be modified based on the needs of the elderly; instead of having them standing, chairs can be placed on the floor where participants can sit and play the game.

Preparations:

- Create a designated area where participants can play balloon volleyball, for example, in a garden or a communal open space. Mark a playing area that serves as your "game field." You can use tape to create a line that functions as the net. Place the participants on each side of the "net."
- Use a balloon as "volleyball."
- Divide the participants into two teams if there are enough participants. If needed, the activity can be carried out with just one player and one person from the personnel.

Explain the rules of the game to the participants:

- The goal is to keep the balloon in the air for as long as possible by hitting it over the net to the opponent's side.
- Participants can use the palm of their hand to hit the balloon.
- One way to start the game is for a participant to gently hit the balloon over the net from their side to get the game started. After that, the teams take turns hitting the ball over the net.
- Scoring: Each time the ball lands within the marked area on the opponent's side, the team earns a point. The first team to reach 10 points wins.
